

Afterschool Theatre Club

Meeting young people where they are, right now.

Because play is serious work.

Little Blue's after school programming is all about imagination, play, and making theatre. We invite students to create stories, build characters, and explore big ideas in a space that is welcoming, inclusive, and full of joy.

Each semester students decide what they want to make: an original play, a shadow puppet piece, a murder mystery, an improv show - the only limit is their imaginations.

Students will explore stories, characters, and movement through games and guided creative explorations, building confidence and creativity in a space that's warm, inclusive, and built just for them.

— GRADES 3-5

Students take the lead on building their own theatrical work, creating characters, writing, and shaping a story from the ground up. It's a chance to dig deeper into collaboration and creative ownership as their skills grow.

Led by professional teaching artists with extensive experience and training in theatre education, trauma-informed practice, neuroinclusivity, and youth development.
